Pan-American Nations Prepare New Agreement

Would Repress Foreign Activities That May Threaten Peace Of Hemisphere

EXPECT NATIONS TO VOTE DURING WEEK

Secretary Hull And Argentina Minister Agree On Nature Of Accord

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 13.—Delegates to the Eighth Pan-American Conference today pondered a proposed agreement under which all American nations would commit themselves to take concerted action to repress foreign political or propaganda activities that might threaten peace in the western hemisphere.

The endorsement of the United States was given the proposal before it was submitted by the Argentine delegation to a committee charged with writing the final draft. The proposal will be voted upon late this week by the full conference of 21 nations.

It will take the form, if adopted, of a multi-lateral declaration rather than that of an actual defensive treaty or alliance.

The nature of the accord was agreed upon by Secretary of State Cordell Hull of the United States and Foreign Minister Jose Maria Cantillo of Argentina before the latter departed last night by steamer for Buenos Aires.

Meanwhile, in a radio broadcast to the United States, Dr. Samuel Guy Ingham, representative of the Columbia Broadcasting System, reported (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Here's something more for the historical society. Dating back to 1851, Lawrence county had two associate judges, who sat on the bench with the presiding judge. They did not take part in the actual trial of cases but gave their opinions of issues when asked by the judge. The two last associate judges were the late John Shaffer, whose commission expired on the first Monday of January, 1896 and Robert J. Fulkerson, whose commission expired on the first Monday of January, 1897. The office was then abolished.

Periodically there is an agitation for a unicameral, or one house Legislature. Probably few people know that Pennsylvania once had such a governing body. From 1776 to 1790, the first fourteen years of Pennsylvania's existence as a state, the commonwealth was governed by a unicameral General Assembly. In these days of hungry office seekers, it is unlikely that the one house plan will ever again be adopted, although it would probably function satisfactorily and would be a big saving to the taxpayers.

Lawrence county, with around 250 applications for naturalization at the last term of naturalization court, does not appear to be the only one in which there is a rush for citizenship. According to reports from Beaver county, 350 took the preliminary examination recently, and in Butler county, in which there are fewer foreigners than in Lawrence and Beaver, there were 75 applicants. This is said to have been an all record high in Butler county. Since we have foreigners here, it is better to have them naturalized, provided they understand our form of government, and are willing to uphold our institutions.

The trend in modern houses seems to be away from the third floor, or attic. Anybody who has ever had an attic knows that it is a place where (Continued On Page Two)

Dr. Schacht To Discuss Anglo-German Trade Plan

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's visit to London was expected today to lead to new Anglo-German trade developments and possibly to bring forward a new German plan dealing with emigration of Jews from the Reich.

Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, is coming to London in response to an invitation extended by Montague Norman, governor of the bank of England. A Berlin announcement said the visit would take place immediately after the meeting of the bank for international settlements at Basle. Schacht may leave Basle for the British capital today.

It was believed that Schacht, while he is here, will engage in a series of talks with Norman and other business and financial leaders that may bring about vital changes in trade relations between Germany and Great Britain.

Furthermore, despite the fact his visit is termed "private" diplomatic circles believe Schacht may advance a scheme linking Jewish emigration from the Reich with the German campaign for increased exports.

Informed circles, however, do not expect his arrival to presage any immediate change in the slightly stiff political relations between Berlin and London.

Burns' Plea Of Guilty On Smuggling Charge Gives Hollywood Jitters

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Radio and screen star George Burns' guilty plea to smuggling charges today sent a wave of jitters through Hollywood as federal authorities, hinting at possible indictment of additional notables, pressed its case against Albert Chaperau, sleek confidant of film stars.

Already in jail in default of $20,000 bail following his indictment with Mrs. Elma Lauer on smuggling charges, Chaperau pleads today to the two indictments in which he was named with Burns. Each was accused of smuggling jewelry valued at $4,885 into the United States. Named in one of the indictments was Paula Gheyskens, also known as "Ma Honey" and Paula Chaperau, who is believed by authorities to be Chaperau's wife. She is being sought by Mrs. Lauer, wife of New York Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Lauer from whose Park avenue home wearing apparel allegedly smuggled (Continued On Page Two)

Sewickley Man Killed In Boston

Struck By Locomotive Near Back Bay Station In New England City

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Dec. 13.—A man identified by police as Ross Chapin, 28, son of Newton Chapin, socially prominent Sewickley, Pa., oil derrick manufacturer, was crushed to death today beneath the wheels of a railroad switching engine.

Chapin was killed beneath a footbridge across the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad tracks in the south end, about 150 yards from the Back Bay station.

Police were unable to determine whether Chapin had fallen or jumped from the footbridge into the path of the engine, or had been walking the tracks.

The forward driving truck of the engine passed over his body.

A letter, found in his pocket, was addressed to Ross Chapin, and bore a Sewickley, Pa., postmark. Police did not disclose its contents immediately. He had no money.

Anthony Eden Has Conference With Roosevelt

Unofficial Ambassador Of Good Will From England At White House

CROWD GATHERS TO GREET VISITOR

World Events Are Discussed By Eden And President During Day's Talk

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Great Britain's unofficial ambassador of good will, Debonair Anthony Eden, and President Roosevelt sat down today in the oval room of the White House for an intimate review of world events as they effect the two great English-speaking democracies.

The former British foreign secretary entered the White House from the state department shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, after being literally mobbed by throngs of feminine admirers.

Travelling in unaffected Democratic style, Eden and his beautiful wife and a small party of friends arrived in the nation's capital early this morning. Later, accompanied by an attaché of the British embassy, the young British statesman motored from the British embassy to the state department. He arrived several minutes before his scheduled 10:45 o'clock appointment with Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles.

But Eden's incognito ended abruptly on his arrival at the state department. Virtually the entire business of the state and war departments came to a standstill as stenographers and young women clerks left their offices and thronged the long corridors leading from the diplomatic entrance to Welles' suite.

Eden almost had to push his way through the admiring throng which greeted him with a continuous applause.

Ruth Etting To Resume Stand

Faces Cross-Examination On Story About Husband In Shooting

REVEALS THREATS MADE BY HUSBAND

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—Songstress Ruth Etting today faced a raking cross-examination on her indictment from the witness stand of Martin (Colonel Moe) Snyder, the man to whom she was married for seventeen years, as a would be killer.

She was to face Attorney Jerry Giesler, criminal lawyer who is representing Snyder on charges of having shot Myrl S. Alderman last October.

Miss Etting, "the little lady" to Snyder in happier days, spent most of yesterday relating details of her years as the wife of the defendant.

She concluded her testimony with the event that led up to the shooting and a description of the affair itself.

Accused Of Shooting
Snyder is on trial before a jury of six men and six women, accused of attempted murder, kidnapping and violation of the state gun law. His alleged victims including Miss Etting and his own daughter Edith Snyder, as well as Alderman.

Miss Snyder is also scheduled to take the stand against him before the state's case is concluded.

Miss Etting spared no punches in painting a black picture of her former husband's terrible temper. She related that he had threatened her with death on several occasions after their divorce in Chicago in 1937.

Two Democratic Seats In Senate Now Threatened

Two-Vote Margin In Upper Chamber May Be Lost At Organization

HOLDING TWO JOBS CAUSES PROTEST

Senate May Be Divided Evenly When Body Meets To Organize

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—Trouble doubled today in the Democratic party's defense of the slim state senate majority it salvaged from the Republican landslide of November 8. Two court challenges instead of one now threaten the nominal two-vote Democratic margin in the upper chamber. Because one of these votes is almost certainly Republican, the Democrats need both to maintain organization control when the senate convenes on January 3.

Whether the issue will have been disgorged by the courts on that date, just three weeks from today, was open to question. And the prospect of whether leaders of the outgoing administration will start a "backfire" contest against at least one Republican senator, left the prize of control in even more feathery balance.

Outlook Is Shadowed
Already threatened by one election contest suit, the outlook for Democratic victory was shadowed by a quo warranto writ granted by the state supreme court compelling State Senator P. J. Henney, Democratic coroner of Allegheny county, to show cause why he may hold two elective offices. The action is against Henney's right to sit in the senate, to which he was elected in 1936.

The suit against Henney followed by a few days the election contest started by Samuel W. Salus, veteran Republican, who lost the senate seat he had won for 27 years to Herbert S. Levin, Philadelphia Democrat. Levin's apparent margin of victory was 47 votes.

The writ against Henney was made returnable on December 23, just 11 days before the senate meets to organize.

Argument is to be heard in Philadelphia tomorrow on a motion of Levin's counsel, Major Emanuel B. Schofield, to quash the Salus contest proceedings. Schofield questions the Philadelphia court's right to count any of the votes cast in the second senatorial district of that city.

To Call More Witnesses
If Schofield's move is lost, the Republican city committee backing Salus promises to call 200 more witnesses. Schofield said he would match the GOP witnesses in number.

Hence the possibility of an early decision, barring an immediate ruling quashing the contest, is nil.

Should both issues still be in the courts on January 3, the Democrats probably would face the Republicans 24-24. Salus already has obtained a preliminary injunction blocking (Continued On Page Two)

State Police To Question Cross

Will Grill Cross About Liquor Store Holdups, Four Facing Kidnap-Robbery Charges

(International News Service)
LEBANON, O., Dec. 13.—The Warren county jury will convene tomorrow to consider kidnapping and robbery charges against two men and two women who abducted a state patrolman and who later allegedly confessed a series of robberies.

Awaiting action were Coy Russell, 29, Houston, Tex., David I. Cross, Hamilton, Pa., Marie Day, 25, Greenup, Ky., and Norma Hayes, 25, Ashland, Ky.

They were seized several hours after state Patrolman Parker Powell was kidnapped as he investigated an automobile accident.

Captain Marcus White, of the Pennsylvania state police, arrived here last night and planned to question Cross concerning various liquor stores and bank robberies in Pennsylvania.

Report Japanese Plane Shot Down By U. S. Gunboat

Belated Report Asserts That Shots From Luzon Hit Jap Plane

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Dec. 13.—A report that the United States Gunboat Luzon shot down a Japanese warplane in the Yangtze river off Hankow six weeks ago excited keen speculation in Shanghai's foreign circles today.

According to the report, the Luzon fired on the plane when it ignored warnings not to operate over neutral foreign vessels. Special interest was lent to the report because it came to light exactly a year and a day after the United States Gunboat Panay was sent to the bottom of the Yangtze by Japanese warplanes.

(In Washington, officials of the American state and navy departments said they had received no reports indicating the Luzon or any other American gunboat had fired upon or shot down any planes since the sinking of the Panay. They stated they considered it unlikely such an incident could have occurred without being reported officially.)

The French Gunboat Admiral Charnel also was reported to have shot down two Japanese warplanes, whose operations were endangering the vessel, on the same day that the Luzon allegedly brought down its plane. The incidents assertedly occurred while the two gunboats were stationed off Hankow.

Usually reliable sources here claimed that the plane circled and swooped over the Luzon during bombing operations. Rear Admiral David McDougal Leavelle, commander of the United States navy's Yangtze patrol, who was aboard the Luzon, was represented as stating: "They are not going to make another Panay out of us."

Shootings Occur Near Darlington In Beaver County

Robert Hardman, 60, Suicides After Shooting Wife And Three Others

WIFE MAY DIE FROM HER WOUND

Domestic Difficulties Are Believed Cause Of Shooting Orgy Late Monday

(International News Service)
BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Dec. 13.—Anger and resentment that burned within him because he had been ordered to leave home during domestic difficulties impelled Robert Hardman, 60, a WPA worker, to shoot his wife and three other persons and then end his own life, police said today.

The wife, Mrs. Rose Hardman, 55, the mother of eight children, was in a serious condition.

Refuses Reconciliation
Mrs. Hardman's refusal to effect a reconciliation after hours of pleading by the husband precipitated the shooting. Hardman's resentment was expressed in a letter to a local squire who had placed him under bond and then persuaded him to visit a brother in Tennessee as a means of ending the continual quarrels at home. Hardman returned yesterday and pleaded vainly with his wife and the others in his family to become reconciled.

The shooting took place in a farmhouse on a lonely hillside five miles west of Darlington, Pa., late yesterday afternoon.

The victims of Hardman's gunfire in addition to his wife were his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dorothy Davis Hardman, 23; Chester Dickey, 24, and Raymond Pezell, 24, the latter two both of Rodgers, O. The daughter-in-law and the other two (Continued On Page Six)

Memel's Pro-Nazi Movement Grows

Drive Apparently Started To Seek Reunion With The Reich

DEMAND PRESIDENT STEP OUT OF OFFICE

(International News Service)
MEMEL, Lithuania, Dec. 13.—Memel's pro-Nazi movement gained momentum today on the heels of the week end parliamentary elections and fresh opposition to the Lithuanian national government.

At a mass meeting, 2,500 Memelers adopted a resolution calling upon President Antanas Smetona, inaugurated in his fourth term yesterday, to step out of office in favor of a pro-Nazi cabinet. The resolution demanded restoration of the banished Augustinas Waldemaras to power.

Thus the Memel German party and Waldemaras' "Iron Wolf" followers appeared teamed up for a drive that may eventually lead to reunion with the Reich.

German Party Leads
As the result of the elections, the German party under the leadership of Dr. Ernst Neumann claims to have all but three of the 28 seats in the Memel Diet. A broadening of the party's powers was the signal for the directory to exercise a police authority almost equal to that of an independent state.

Meanwhile, President Smetona's inauguration speech was couched in conciliatory terms in an effort to halt the Memel drift toward Nazi subversion.

Smetona expressed a willingness to submit to full local autonomy for the Memel Lithuanians—a gesture which, it was felt in many quarters, may prove too late now that the movement has gained such momentum.

Smetona intimated Lithuania does not intend to surrender sovereignty over Memel to Germany, however.

Problems Remain For New Congress

Many Proposals Are Still Pending

Problems Left Unsolved By Former Congress Provide Vital Issues

TAX EXEMPTIONS BASIS FOR BATTLE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The 76th congress faces many vital and important legislative problems if it merely considers "unfinished business" laid before it last session by President Roosevelt.

With many legislators predicting that few far-reaching New Deal measures will be urged by the White House during the next session, congress may turn to the problems left unsolved.

Major proposals laid before congress by Mr. Roosevelt in messages last year, and on which congress failed to complete action, include:

1. Revision of tax laws, including taxation of income derived from state and municipal, as well as federal, bonds, and state, as well as federal, employees.
2. Legislation to rehabilitate the nation's railroads, including possible scrapping or reorganization of Interstate Commerce Commission.
3. Reorganization of government departments, which Mr. Roosevelt plans to again specifically urge.
4. National policy for production and conservation of phosphates, on which problem a joint congressional committee is working.
5. The question of monopolies, also before a special joint committee.
6. Conservation of resources through regional planning bodies. Part of president's original proposals were incorporated in flood control act.

End To Tax Exemption
In disagreeing with many constitutional lawyers and urging an end of tax exemption, Mr. Roosevelt told congress in a message which was not acted upon:

"Whatever advantages this reciprocal immunity may have had in the early days of this nation have long ago disappeared. Today it has created a vast reservoir of tax-exempt securities in the hands of the very persons who equitably should not be relieved of taxes on their income."

Suggesting reorganization of government agencies dealing with transportation, the president said in another message not acted upon:

"From the point of view of business efficiency, such as a private corporation would seek, it would seem to be the part of common sense to place all executive functions relating to all transportation in one federal department—such as the department of commerce, the department of the interior, or some other old or new department."

Urging adoption of a national policy on phosphates, Mr. Roosevelt told congress that "the soil of the United States faces a continuing loss of its productive capacity."

The president urged both a national and regional planning study, with a view to "taking care of our national estate."

Expansion of the social security program and a new armaments program already have been projected on the calendar of the incoming congress.

Nature adjusts things to make life endurable. The one who sins most has the least troublesome conscience.

Levin's seating until the contest is settled. Similar action likely would be sought against Henney. Despite the indicated even division by party affiliation, Democrats openly fear that Senator Weldon B. Keyburn, Delaware, would vote with the Republicans.

Although an independent Republican, Keyburn was elected by the Democrats. On many major party issues his vote has been cast with the G.O.P. solons, this would give the Republicans a one-vote margin of 25-24 on organizing and would nullify the vote of Lt.-Gov. Thomas Kennedy Democrat, who may vote in case of a tie.

Democrats here would not say what chance there was that a contest would be brought against the defeat of former Rep. Samuel A. Weiss, Allegheny Democrat, by John J. Walker, Republican. Walker won by a small margin.

Precedent Cited
In Henney's favor, so far as precedent is concerned, were two former dual job-holders who were members of the senate—both also from Allegheny county.

William D. Mansfield, McKeesport Republican, and George Rankin, Wilkesburg Democrat, served as senators while Allegheny county commissioners. Rankin is still a member of the commission. He sat through the recent special legislative session, but was not a candidate for re-election.

In each of these instances, a Luzerne county case was held forth as the legal ground supporting the commissioners. The case involved Patrick Joyce, who was elected a director of the poor in Luzerne county while serving in the senate. The court then held that Joyce could complete his term in the senate without vacating his county office. Whether or not Democrats retain control of the office of president pro tempore and thus control of powerful committees and patronage, the Henney case may bring a new supreme court decision setting the issue once and for all.

We've had a lot of skunks around New Castle during the past summer. They happily have not become as familiar as they have in some places. Down in Northumberland county, this state, Mrs. William Tate looked up from her morning chores to see a mother skunk and two little skunklets ambling across the kitchen floor. Mrs. Tate carefully "shooed" them out. 'Twas merely a morning call.

While driving to his work in Leesdale, Sunday evening, Robert K. Tackitt, of 910 West Clayton street, reports seeing a good-sized buck with a nice rack of horns, between Crescentdale and Koppel. It crossed the road ahead of him and scampered up the bank. Mr. Tackitt stopped, and his wife played a flashlight in that direction, locating the deer about ten feet off the side of the road, against a fence. It seemed to be bewildered, and when they got by, it ran down over the bank and across the road, where we could see it in the rear vision mirror.

BURNS PLEA GIVE HOLLYWOOD JITTERS

into this country was taken by federal agents recently, is ill but must appear in court Wednesday to face the charges. Unless the joyous comedian Burns in pleading guilty, Mrs. Lauer and Chaperau face an early trial, possibly next week.

Burns Is Silent

While Burns, husband of Gracie Allen for whom he has "Straight" man in their movie and radio work, declined to discuss the case, indications were that he may testify for the prosecution. Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph W. Delaney recommended his release in the custody of his attorney and described his attitude as "co-operative." His apparent willingness to aid authorities also may win him leniency when the sentence is imposed. Under the nine counts in the indictments, a maximum penalty of 18 years imprisonment and fines totalling $45,000 is possible.

While Burns was non-communicative before dashing to Hollywood by airplane, his attorneys insisted that he "had no purpose or intent to offend against the laws of the United States." Close friends also pictured him as an innocent victim of the smuggling scheme.

They explained that he met Chaperau, self-styled attaché for the Nicaragua government, at a social affair several years ago. When Burns admired a bracelet worn by Paula Gheyskens, Chaperau was accepted in Hollywood as a film producer and agent for foreign productions volunteered to obtain a similar one for Burns.

By then, according to his friends, the radio comedian obtained two bracelets and a gold diamond ring. In each instance, however, the government named Burns along with Chaperau as a smuggler of the gems.

Others Questioned

Federal authorities, who have questioned Jack Benny and Jack Pearl, radio and film comedians, during the past two weeks, have not concluded their investigation. Delaney said additional indictments may be handed up when the probe is concluded.

Burns arrived here from the west coast by airplane Sunday afternoon and made a surprise appearance in federal court. When the sealed indictments, handed up late last week, were read, he stepped before the bar of justice with his attorneys and admitted his guilt. He was a jittery figure with no trace of his carefree attitude that marks his professional roles when he was finger-printed and his life record was taken.

Chaperau's attorney, David Garson Berger, declared he would plead his client not guilty.

"No matter what anyone else does," Berger said, "I am confident of ultimate acquittal. We will fight this case to the last ditch."

Berger declared he was expecting cables from Nicaragua which would prove Chaperau was a recognized commercial attaché of the Nicaraguan consulate here, and as such was entitled to the courtesy of the port, which would release his baggage from customs examination.

The government asserts this was a fraudulent claim advanced by Chaperau to get his baggage through without examination and was part of the scheme for smuggling clothing and jewelry into the country.

A statement that evidence "involving other nationally known figures" will be heard by the federal grand jury came from John W. Roberts, treasury agent and one of those supervising the investigation. He hinted that six other prominent persons are under investigation. He might be involved in charges similar to those against Burns.

It was announced that Burns' Friday night broadcast with Gracie will go on as usual.

Chaperau's brother, Carl, said today to his knowledge the woman known as Chaperau's wife had never been in this country. She now is reported to be in Paris.

Comments on Secretary of State Hull's address before the conference Saturday, Cantillo was quoted as stating:

"We differ in this. Mr. Hull seems to get his key from what is happening outside this continent. He expresses fear of what Europe or Asia with their new ideologies might do to America, so he wants us to arm. But he expected a pact."

"I get my key from America itself. I say all business is to go forward in building our American life in the American spirit. When a nation from the outside really threatens us, then is the time we are to take decisive and united action to defend ourselves."

Cantillo also was quoted as expressing belief that the American continent is not threatened by the dictator nations.

Since his advent to power Il Duce has been manifestly concerned over the fate of Italian citizens living abroad in case of armed conflict. During and since the Ethiopian campaign the plight of the unemployed has particularly pre-occupied him.

Their position has become increasingly important in view of the orientation of Italy's internal and foreign policies in directions opposed to Democratic principles.

The Fascist Workmen's Syndicate announced that positions for skilled labor are available in the crowded peninsula. The majority of those returning are expected to be shoed off to Lybia, Eritrea and Ethiopia, however.

MUSIC CLUB YULETIDE PROGRAM THRILLS MANY

Without question, one of the outstanding programs of Christmas music given by the Music Club of New Castle in recent years, was that heard last evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church when the Club Chorus directed by Robert A. Duff with Edwin Lewis as organ soloist and Elsa Von-Moltke Emery violin soloist, presented a program selected with rare good taste. Miss Genevieve Riddle was hostess.

The Tower chimes of First Church heralded the program which opened with the chorus, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William Rice, singing two carols. The chorus impressed its hearers as being well trained and responsive to Mr. Duff's every gesture. The tone was admirably controlled and there was excellent balance displayed. Of particular interest in the choral numbers were the compositions of Gladys Rich, a former Supervisor of Public School Music in New Castle, and Garth Edmundson, New Castle composer whose works have been enthusiastically received by discriminating musicians and music lovers everywhere, one of which "Light" is dedicated to the Club Chorus. Of additional interest is the fact that the texts of both of Mr. Edmundson's numbers were written by another New Castle man, Delbert Fletcher, under the pen name of Ruelbert Berth. The soloists who added much to the effectiveness of the choral numbers were Miss Ruth Drescher, Mrs. William J. Caldwell, Mrs. L. P. Friend and Mrs. Robert E. Fleming.

Mrs. Emery, ably seconded by Frank Taylor, Jr. at the piano, played with authority the Sonata No. 1 in A Major by Handel for violin and piano evidenced a fine understanding of style and the ability to invest her reading with richly colored tones controlled and applied with skill and taste.

From the very beginning of Mr. Lewis' opening number, there was evidence of a pronounced, deep musical temperament of commanding artistic resources. His facile technique, delicate and accurate sense of color values and lucid program notes served to heighten the enjoyment of the large distinguished audience. His numbers included composition of French, Spanish, German and American composers, several of the numbers skillfully etched by means of careful registration, proved of particular interest. His playing of a number of Garth Edmundson's works, one of which "The Christmas Folk Song Prelude" was played for the first time in New Castle, evidenced the fact that he was in complete sympathy with them in their entirety. The Lanquett-Wid-or Taccola which closed his program was exciting and stimulating and was played magnificently.

The ushers for the evening which provided music lovers with one of the best musical programs of the season were Mrs. Ezra Marvin, Edna Weide, Elizabeth Gilliland and Isabel Johnson.

Members of the chorus were First Sopranos - Mrs. Ben Agnew, Elsie Calvin, Ruth Drescher, Mrs. Robert Fleming, Mrs. T. J. McPate, Mrs. Paul Melvin, Dorothy Patch, Lena Richards, First Altos, Mrs. R. M. Barnes, Clarissa Duff, Maude Mitchell, Edna Weide, Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. R. M. Wilson; Second Sopranos, Mrs. William J. Other decorations, corresponded with this theme, providing a holiday atmosphere.

A delicious lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess being aided by her sister, Eleanor Burnside and Eva King. The Yuletide motif predominated in the appointments throughout.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SCHOOL GIFTS SCORED

When I was a boy in the one-room rural school, we received a bag of candy and an orange from the teacher on the last school day before Christmas. Some years later, when I taught in that same school, I bestowed the treat in like fashion. It was the only thing to do. This practice still persists in some places.

Consider It Unethical

In those schools where there is no ruling by the board of education against this practice, the teacher should consider it unethical and undemocratic. She should, in due time, send an announcement to the home and tell her pupils at school that no child should present her with a gift. It would be easier if the principal of the building and her whole staff would send home such an announcement.

I wish PTA's would bring this matter to the attention of the school and make clear to the teachers the serious problems involved when children bear gifts to the teacher.

You see, some children cannot afford to buy gifts and some can purchase more costly gifts than others. A few children will buy gifts for teacher from a sense of duty or for personal protection. (I wrote that from my experience at a parent.) Many a child will present the gift with the hope that he will be repaid with more attention and better marks from the teacher, and in some instances his hopes are fulfilled. However fair a teacher might try to be, she might not prove able to be wholly immune to human frailties.

Acts of Goodness

On the other hand, hundreds of self-sacrificing teachers in our public and parochial schools have bought food and clothes for indigent children in their schools. And these teachers do such acts of goodness without letting other children, even other adults, know about it. So also do many public health nurses and other social workers and angels of mercy. Imitating Jesus when He lived here on earth, they go about doing good.

A HUMAN ECHO

Eddie Albany, "the human echo," has a most remarkable gift. For years ago, he says he discovered that he could say the same words, in the same tone of voice, that anyone was saying to him, and say them simultaneously. That is, if you can imagine an echo giving back every sound you utter from a distance of three or four feet, so that you could hardly distinguish your own voice from the echo's, you get some idea of Eddie's trick.

He developed the gift because if his father started to lecture him he could "echo" and set the whole family laughing.

Now, though he can speak no language except English, Albany can give back any words spoken to him just as rapidly, apparently as a microphone could. He can echo men talking German, Chinese, Russian, Italian, Hungarian, pig Latin, English and French. His voice rises and falls with theirs. His pronunciation is precisely the same and if they hesitate and mispronounce, he does the same.

He has made sound recordings which, even when played in slow motion, do not show any failure to reproduce the sounds uttered to him. One professor who had labored long to memorize a single paragraph in Sanskrit, tried it on Albany and he didn't boggle a syllable. One noted professor in the Middle West said, after many tests, that his perceptions and vocal reactions are one hundred eighty times as swift and acute as those of ordinary people.

Outside of that Eddie seems to be a normal person.

OH, THESE LAWYERS

If a man would give another an orange he would simply say, "I give you this orange," but when the transaction is entrusted to a lawyer to put in writing he adopts this form:

"I hereby give and convey to you, all and singular, my estate and interests, right, title, claim and advantages of and in said orange, together with all its rind, juice, pulp and pits, and all rights and advantages therein, with full power to bite, cut, suck and otherwise eat the same, or give the same away with or without the rind, skin, juice, pulp or pits, anything hereinbefore or hereinafter or in any other deed, or deed, instrument or instrument of whatever nature or kind soever to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding."

A lawsuit at Brentford, England, was dismissed because the defendant seemed too deaf to understand the questions put to him. "I thought you'd hear that," remarked the registrar.

Screen and burlesque features of the vulgar category are wont to have an informed audience, scoring a street-length velvet dress. Will it be all right to have my maid-of-honor and bridesmaids wear silk dresses of winter shades?

BRIDE.

Answer—If your wedding will be informal, you must have only a maid-of-honor attend you. Bridesmaids have no place in such a wedding. They belong only in a wedding party in which the bride dresses in traditional wedding attire.

Surely, your attendant may wear a silk dress and you a velvet. Candles and flowers on the altar are entirely proper even for a small wedding.

Monopoly Probe Red Herring
 Anti-New Dealers Say It Is O'Mahoney Not Too Friendly

By CHARLES P. STEWART
 Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13—

Anti-New Dealers have been circulating the story that Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney's "monopoly investigation" as they term it, was inspired by the public's attention to alleged Rooseveltian failures to the supposed iniquities of great concentrations of capital. Personally, I don't believe this yarn. In the first place, if that had been the administration's idea I don't think it would have picked O'Mahoney to develop it. The Wyoming senator by no means is a 100 per cent administrationist. He has fought various New Deal policies like a wildcat and might have been on the White House "punch list" but that term isn't ending at the present juncture. Surely if the administration folks had cooked up this quiz for their own political purposes they would have selected a more manageable chairman than Joe O'Mahoney.

Secondly, the senator has been at great pains to explain that his inquiry isn't an anti-monopoly probe—that that's a wrong designation which has been wished onto it. He says that "impartial economic research work" is what his committee is engaged in.

Almost Too Fair

Of course that would be the story anyway, even if a one-sided chairman were directing the job.

However, O'Mahoney really behaves fairly. His examination of witnesses is honestly judicial. Manifestly he's after facts; not mere advertising, which seems to be Representative Martin Dies' objective, with his "un-American committee."

Indeed, O'Mahoney is almost too fair for publicity purposes. Audiences tend to prefer more spectacular stuff, like the Dies committee's product.

Nevertheless, O'Mahoney's performances draw crowds at least equal to Dies'.

Dies puts on a catchy show. It appeals to prejudice. O'Mahoney really doesn't furnish a show at all. It's more like a class of students, genuinely worrying over a serious problem. And it's vastly to the average American's credit that O'Mahoney lies about even with Dies.

Sensible Anti-New Dealers, by the way, whisper that they'd be thankful if Dies would quit his "side show," as Interior Secretary Ickes terms it. They realize that Dies means well from their standpoint—that he's trying to smear the New Deal. But they don't like his technique. Their feeling is that it makes their cause appear silly. It provokes such "letters to the editor" as one I saw the other day, demanding that "red" suits for department store Santa Claus be outlawed.

The O'Mahoney-lies put a cracking good witness on the stand initially—Labor Department Statistician Isador Lubin.

How Labor Benefited

Labor in this country has benefited by rapid population growth—1,000,000 or more a year in the past, up to World War times. The more workers, to compete with one another, but it also meant more consumers. Illustratively, for every additional worker we added three or four dependents, to be fed, clothed and housed.

In short, consumption kept ahead of production.

I frequently have heard Chairman Samuel Dickstein of the house immigration committee emphasize this point. It's a suggestion which likewise has been advanced by O. E. Baker of the federal bureau of agricultural economics. And by Monsignor John A. Ryan of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Lubin, before the O'Mahoney committee, super-emphasized it.

Now, maybe it was all right for us to clamp down on immigration as we did about 20 years ago. The fact remains that it checked our numerical growth in short order. In a few years we shan't be increasing in numbers a particle. We're not increasing much now.

It isn't asserted that this necessarily is a bad thing, but it entirely alters the requirements of our economic system.

Representative Dickstein, Agricultural Economist Baker and Monsignor Ryan have harped on the subject for a long time, but the O'Mahoney committee, through Statistician Lubin, was needed to put it into the headlines.

It hasn't a blessed thing to do with monopoly.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

One begins to suspect that the ladies lead in the great literary free-for-all. Future historians, contemplating the literary scene, may consider the present a silver, if not a golden age of the gifted woman writer.

Over in England, Daphne du Maurier has rung the bell again with a superlatively fine novel, "Rebecca." Over here, Margaret Halsey's book, "With Malice Toward Some," is already a runner-up for Miss Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind." And then, when one thinks of Dorothy Parker, Anita Loos, Ruth McKenney, Katherine Dayton and a dozen or two others who might be named, you have the makings of a couple of all-American teams of women fictionists and humorists who have come forward with a rush in the past few years.

Still and all, talented ladies of the pen have not been uncommon back through the flow of years. Perhaps our grandparents recall a book called "Decorum" which was published back in the 1870's and which had for a theme a method of keeping a cornet under control at a picnic. It was loaded with the foolishness of "Hellsapoppin'." Feminine humor back in the 19th century, and in the very early years of the 20th, lacked, however, the free and easy—shall we say, impudence—of the fun cast about by the writing girls of today.

Some of the old timers were about as funny as the binomial theorem. It was, of course, when the sphere of women was circumscribed, by a stiff and "gentle" elegance.

The Widow Bedott, who was Frances Berry Witcher of western New York, was a type of the woman humorist of the middle of the last century. Here's a sample from the widow's story of her deceased husband:

"He was troubled with a wonderful pain in his chest and a wonderful weakness in the spine of his back, besides the pleurisy in the side, and havin' the ager a considerable part of the time, and bein' broke of his rest o' nights 'cause he was so put to't for breath when he laid down. Why it's an accountable fact that when that man died he hadn't seen a well day in 15 year, though when he was married and for five or six year after I shouldn't desire to see a ruggeder man than he was."

There were Caroline Mathilda Kirkland, Sara Willis Parton, Ann Stephens and Rose Terry Cooke, all using pretty much the same proverbs and cast of characters. Rose Terry Cooke of God's Lady's Book, whose jokes once rocked the town, would now engage the interest of antiquarians, but that is about all.

Helping the farmer is easy. The hard part is to make a perfect complicated system that will pay him as much as he would make if left alone.

Errol Flynn In Fistic Battle

Dashing Irish Star Hangs One On Aidan Roark, Movie Executive

FIGHT OCCURS AT SWANK BARN DANCE

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13.—"I'm sorry it happened; it's just one of those unfortunate affairs" remarked the dashing Irish film star, Errol Flynn, today as he shied away from discussing Hollywood's latest battle, fought at a swank barn dance given by Mrs. Jock Whitney, noted society figure and sportswoman.
"Yes," he said ruefully, "I'm sorry but some of the remarks were too pointed, and I had to defend myself."
The swashbuckling screen star, according to stories from those at the battlefront, floored Aidan Roark, polo-playing movie executive knocking him out.

Flynn Angered
Some one let one fly at Flynn when the latter's arms were being held by friends who sought to intervene, and that was the only thing the Irish actor would talk about as he emerged from a theatre last night.

"I wish I knew who that chap was who sung on me" he said ruefully. "I only know he came from Pasadena but he popped me on the mouth, so I knocked him down and he ran away."

Flynn made a hurried trip to the dentist yesterday, fearing he had received a chipped tooth, but he only had a tiny cut on the lip to show for the encounter when he attended a preview of his latest picture last night.

Roark had no comment. Those who witnessed the battle declared that Roark and Flynn had been engaged in an argument during the party, and when Roark assertedly grabbed at Flynn's collar, the actor countered with a beautifully timed right hook.

Mother's Standby in Treating CHILDREN'S Frequent COLDS

If your children keep coming down with nasty little colds all winter, use VapoRub these three simple ways.

✓ For relieving discomforts of chest colds and coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back at bedtime. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action relieves local congestion—eases muscular soreness or tightness—their the youngster relax into restful sleep.

✓ For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue. It melts, trickles slowly down, soothes the throat with soothing medication. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest.

✓ For "sniffles" and misery of head colds, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steamy vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air-passages, makes breathing easier. Also massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested ways to relieve their children's colds.

Al Capone Seeks To Escape Going Back To Chicago Jail

By JOHN D. HANLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—Al Capone, scheduled to be released from Alcatraz next month, dreads the prospect of being returned to Chicago to serve a year term in the Cook county jail.

It is not the one year term he dreads. He has served four years on Alcatraz and knows what the most rigid prison life in the United States is like.

He fears the return to the scene of his bloody career during the prohibition era, when a nod or wink from the "scarface" vice lord was a death sentence with gangland machine guns.

He fears a deadly reprisal by one-time henchmen of gangland enemies who were put on the spot by his executions.

Capone would be the last to admit this, but his fears are clearly revealed in the desperate legal fight he has waged to escape that one year term in the Cook county jail.

Federal authorities in San Francisco, anticipating a new petition for a writ of habeas corpus in Capone's behalf, said today they were prepared to resist it to the last ditch.

The first step in Capone's fight to escape the one year term was an appeal to the United States supreme court. Through his attorney, Abraham Teitelbaum, he contended that he was placed in double jeopardy when he was given ten years for income tax evasion for the years 1925 to 1929 and an additional year in the Cook county jail. On March 14 of this year the supreme court ruled against him.

Capone's mother, Theresa, then instituted habeas corpus proceedings in Chicago federal court to obtain his outright freedom when his Alcatraz term is completed.

Teitelbaum withdrew these proceedings when Attorney General Homer S. Cummings advised him the federal court in San Francisco and not Chicago had jurisdiction over Alcatraz Island.

Among First At Alcatraz
As yet the new petition for a habeas corpus writ has not been filed, but San Francisco federal authorities said they were prepared for it, when and if it is filed.

Capone began serving his sentence May 4, 1932. He was among the first prisoners transferred to Alcatraz in 1934 when the former army prison was made America's "Devil's Island" for the nation's most desperate felons.

He earned good behavior credits and shortened his ten year term by more than three years. His sentence is up January 19, 1939, but he may be secretly transferred to another federal prison shortly before his release, as has been the custom with other notorious prisoners in the past, instead of being freed directly from Alcatraz.

Capone's health has been partially restored since his collapse early this year when his mind appeared to be crumbling.

He hopes that he will further restore his health by long rest at his guarded Florida villa on Palm Island, in Biscayne bay.

But he will never see that villa again if his enemies of a bygone era get their chance to rub him out.

While indicating that he would make no attempt in the senate for passage of the $30-Every-Thursdays pension scheme which California's voters scuttled last November 8, the fast-talking new senator served blunt notice:

"I am more interested in the old-age pension proposition than anything else before the country, because it ties into the program for bringing back national prosperity."

Italy Is Destination Of Much Overseas Christmas Mail From New Castle

While it may be a bit too early to tell, it doesn't seem likely that turmoil in European lands will lighten Santa's pack to any appreciable degree this Christmas.

At least local post office officials feel that way about it.

Outgoing load is heavy. Postmaster Richard A. Steen and Superintendent of Mails David B. Thomas agree that the local mail load moving across the water this year is "probably as heavy as ever."

Italy, they report, will get the bulk of the mail and the lands where missionaries are stationed will share the rest.

Clare E. Roberts, parcel post clerk, who personally handles most of the out-bound packages, said Italy always did get the bulk of the outgoing Christmas mail to foreign shores.

"We never had a lot of mail for Germany," he added.

Officials believe "it might be too early to determine if mail from the dictator countries will be lighter this year. Already, they said, some packages have been received from them."

Mailing Gains Momentum

Domestic Christmas mailing is getting a good start, Superintendent Thomas stated. He said an additional parcel post truck will be in service this afternoon. He expects that it will be Friday, however, before additional clerks or carriers are needed.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Rush At Ward Post Office Has Started

Ward Postal Station Closes At Noon Each Saturday Is Reminder

Complete Week Of Work Monday At City Plant

New Flood Wall At Disposal Plant Is Taking Shape Rapidly

Already the Christmas rush to mail letters, cards and packages has started at the Mahoningtown Post Office, according to Edwin McBride, superintendent. Although Christmas is yet two weeks away, the rush of business, is expected to continue daily until the final mailing hour before December 25.

According to Superintendent McBride, many persons have forgotten that the ward office is closed on Saturday afternoon each week. He stated that after closing last Saturday many persons came up and tried the door to the office.

For rural patrons, McBride suggests that they purchase enough stamps to mail their letters and packages either from the rural carrier or from the post office. Leaving money in the rural boxes to cover postage on packages creates a delay in working the rural route.

William Howard, East Madison avenue, is confined to his home by illness.

At the close of work Monday afternoon, one week of progress had been noted on the new flood prevention wall being constructed at the city disposal plant, on the Wampum road, just outside the Seventh Ward.

This wall is being built along the river, to the rear of the disposal plant. At the present time there is a force of about 90 men employed on the project, but it is expected that approximately 300 will be put to work here before the work is completed.

According to those in charge of the work, the wall will be constructed of earth, and then rip-rapped with stone. It was learned today that a total of 2,650 cubic feet of heavy stone will be used in the project.

Means Revealed None Of Secrets

Takes Mysteries To Grave With Him Unsolved, It Develops

(International News Service) SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Dec. 13.—The body of Gaston B. Means, international mystery man and arch-swindler, was to be shipped today to a grave in the family burial plot of his aristocratic forbears at Concord, N. C.

Means carried to his death the inside story of the $100,000 Lindbergh baby kidnapping hoax on Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean for which he was serving a fifteen year penitentiary term when he succumbed yesterday following a gall bladder operation.

It had been rumored that Means intended to tell the full story of that amazing plot against the publisher and Washington, D. C., society woman before his death.

It had never been explained what he did with the money, which he obtained by falsely promising to return the kidnapped child alive.

Means, however, died without making a statement, according to his wife and attendants in the room at the U. S. Medical Center. His widow said she knew of no papers or secret documents belonging to him which might clear up many never told phases of his checkered career.

Beside his widow, Julie, Means is survived by a son, Billy, and three brothers and three sisters.

Valet With George Arliss 32 Years, Seeking Movie Job

By HARRISON CARROLL (Copyright, 1938)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13.—Permanent retirement of George Arliss is seen by Hollywood in the arrival here of the star's famous man-servant, Jenner, seeking a job in the films.

Jenner, who served Arliss 32 years is well-remembered by the film colony, especially by players and directors in Arliss' pictures at Warner Brothers. At 4:30 p. m., even if the company was in the middle of a shot, Jenner always used to step up to his master and say: "Mr. Arliss, it is time to be home."

But Hollywood bears no ill feelings, for the casting office at Warners is arranging to hire Jenner, on a more or less permanent basis, as a stand-in.

The perfect gentleman's gentleman has a card with the Screen Actors' Guild—arranged for by his former master.

He tells friends here that Arliss let him go because of his intention to retire.

Giants Dispatch Leslie To Farm

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Acquisition of First Baseman Henry "Zeke" Bonura, Washington Senator slugger, caused the New York Giants today to send Sam Leslie, one of their initial sack guards, to the Jersey City farm club.

Release of Leslie instead of First Baseman Johnny McCarthy was somewhat of a surprise to many Giant supporters.

Blondy Ryan, the "man of destiny" in the Giants' 1933 pennant triumph, was named manager of the Clinton, Iowa, club in the Three-I League, another New York farm.

All of the work is being done by the WPA, and it is expected that the new shelves will accommodate several hundred additional books.

Japanese Paper Attacks Hull For Speech At Lima

(International News Service) TOKYO, Dec. 13.—The Japanese newspaper Nichi Nichi today caustically criticized Secretary of State Cordell Hull's speech before the Pan-American conference at Lima on Saturday, in which he called for special measures by the Americas to check any perils of armed aggression and the "invasion" of "fallacious doctrines of class or racial superiority."

"If it not too much to say" Nichi Nichi stated, "that the United States is planning to obtain hegemony over the American countries and develop them into a military alliance."

"Under the pretext of a fascist menace, the United States is planning to make her own economic invasion, which is the main objective of her dollar diplomacy, hitherto attempted under the Monroe doctrine."

BAD CHIMNEY IS CAUSE OF BLAZE

City firemen were called to the gasoline station of M. Greenberg & Sons, 401 South Mill street, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, when a defective chimney got fire to the adjoining woodwork between the ceiling and roof. Damage of around $25 resulted which is covered by insurance.

Gasoline Dealers To Raise Price

The price of gasoline throughout Lawrence county will be raised from 15 cents to 17 1/2 cents a gallon on Wednesday morning, a representative of the Lawrence County Gasoline Dealers' Association announced today.

Representing the gas dealers and distributors who form the association, Clyde Lennox said:

"We agreed on the price increase this morning, and tomorrow morning it goes into effect. For six months the prevailing price has been 15 cents, and now it goes to 17 1/2 cents a gallon."

Lennox said 20 dealers and distributors, representing 90 per cent of the county's gas station owners, were present when the action was voted today.

REFRIGERATOR MOTOR OVERHEATS

Seventh ward firemen were called to the home of Guy Frank, 526 N. Liberty street, at 1:20 this morning when the motor on a refrigerator became overheated and set fire to adjoining woodwork.

A loss of $200 resulted from the blaze firemen reported.

Players Present Christmas Carol

Dickens Story Is Given By Provincial Players—To Be Repeated Three Times

In all the world there is no more lovely story of Christmas than "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens. Like no other story does it portray what the alchemy of the Christmas spirit can do with a skinflint like old Ebenezer Scrooge.

It is a story that is known to most of the civilized people of the world. Scrooge, a business man has no time for sentiment, no time for anything but six per cent. The ghost of his late partner, Jacob Marley returns on Christmas Eve, warns him of the approaching visit of three other ghosts, each of which will point out some of his past life or future. The shades arrived and Scrooge reforms. From a skinflint he changes to a giver, from a sourpuss he turns to be a warm hearted sentimentalist.

Provincial Players
As their Christmas offering, the Provincial Players presented "A Christmas Carol" in the Provincial Playhouse Monday night, the opening night of a four night engagement.

The treatment of the play insofar as the sets are concerned was novel. Most of the play's action is depicted by tableaux and these were shown to the audience through a theatrical screen. Through the use of lights and paint, a little in the way of stage scenery was made to appear as a lot.

The cast of the play is a large one and there are many changes on the stage during its presentation. With a minimum of delay and confusion the changes were made and the continuity of the play carried through with precision.

There is one main character in the play, "Scrooge", taken by William Nunn, but with him in the development of the play there is a host of other players, all of them members of the Provincial Players. "Christmas Carol" is such a play as requires a little and a lot.

Simple, and understandable and entirely lovely the play can be understood and appreciated by everyone, regardless of who puts it on. At the same time it requires a certain delicacy of touch and skill in treatment if it is to be presented at its best. The Provincial Players did a creditable job with a play that has daunted players of more years and experience.

The play will be repeated tonight, Wednesday and Thursday. For a reliving of the Christmas spirit, for a little touch of lump in the throat, we suggest you drive out to the playhouse at the corner of Washington and Beckford streets and see it.

Velma Goes Back To Rich Husband

Ring Worth $1,000 And A
Richly Furnished Apartment Make Girl
Change Mind

(International News Service)
TALLULA, Ill., Dec. 13.—With a $1,000 diamond ring and a richly furnished apartment in town, 14-year-old Velma Robinson Greene looked with new found favor upon her wealthy 60-year-old husband today.

When authorities in Los Angeles separated Jones Scott Greene from his bride on their honeymoon, the girl said disdainfully.

"I never want to see that old man, again."

She was brought back to the Robinson's shack on the Greene estate where her father is a share cropper.

But yesterday with the consent of her parents to whom Greene said he had paid $500 for the girl's hand in the first place, she moved out and rejoined her elderly husband.

The bargain was apparently sealed by the ring, which Velma said Greene had promised to buy her after their marriage. Her cries when he failed to do so roused the neighbors into summoning Los Angeles police.

Brotherhood Hears Splendid Program

Men Of Croton Community Have Monthly Gathering In Croton M. E. Church

Men of the Croton M. E. church and community enjoyed a splendid program last evening, in connection with the monthly meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the church. Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker gave the principal address of the evening, outlining some worthwhile thoughts. Music during the evening was rendered by the men's chorus of the First Congregational church.

At the close of the evening, lunch was served by the committee.

'The Midnight Cry' Is Subject Tonight

"The Work of the Holy Spirit in the World and in the Church" was the subject of another interesting discourse by Evangelist J. C. Kellogg, Monday night, in the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle. Another service will be conducted tonight with "The Midnight Cry" for the sermon subject, and the meetings will continue all week except Saturday, closing with three services on Sunday. Capacity crowds attended the services last Sunday afternoon and evening. Russell E. Kauffman, the enthusiastic leader of song for the campaign, has been heard in a number of beautiful baritone solos. Sunday, December 18, at 2:30 p. m. the new tabernacle will be dedicated.

Music Will Feature Kiwanis Club Party youngsters.

"We can't see how we can get them anything, as we have to provide shoes, coal, food, shelter and clothing," they wrote, explaining that the necessities of life for the six of them must come from the 13.60 they receive each week. They have been on relief for some time.

"If we do get them some little thing, it means we'll have to cut down on something else — and we can't see where we could," they said.

The oldest daughter is 12, the next is nine and the youngest girl is seven. The boy is three.

The News will furnish the family name to anyone sincerely interested in providing them with a cheery Christmas.

Budget Figures May Be Studied

It is likely that the tentative budget formed by members of council will be placed on the city clerk's bulletin board for perusal today. It was introduced as a proposed ordinance Monday and according to law must be displayed for public scrutiny before being passed. According to a proposed levy ordinance the tax millage for 1939 will remain the same as in 1938 which was 11 1/2 mills.

VITAMINS AND FERTILITY

This series on vitamins has stretched out far longer than I ever anticipated, but I hope to finish with them today, for while there are a number of them, we know comparatively little about most of them. One which we hear a good deal of is Vitamin E. Supposed to have a good deal to do with fertility in humans, it is found largely in the germ of wheat. In my opinion it may be useful, but it is far better to eat a well-balanced diet than to go experimenting with this vitamin. Up in this country we evidently have plenty of fertility, but I've never known wheat germ to be used by the mothers or fathers of our larger families. Yes, right here we have a birth which is amongst the highest in the world—families of 10 or 11 are average while 15 or 20 aren't at all uncommon—and all without the aid of intensive consumption of Vitamin E. So I wouldn't worry about it.

The last vitamin I will deal with now is Vitamin K. A deficiency in this vitamin causes people to bleed very freely from even minor cuts or abrasions.

The vitamin first came in for some attention ten years ago when it was found that chickens on a large farm were such bleeders that even pulling out a tail feather would cause them to bleed to death. Investigation showed that the diet of these fowl was normal except that the sweet clover fed them was spoiled.

When the scientists got around to examining this sweet clover, they found that bacteria had destroyed the fats in the clover. So it seemed that the substance necessary to prevent the development of bleeding was either this fat or something closely related to it.

Experimenting further with the chickens, they discovered that when alfalfa was added to the diet, the fowl stopped bleeding; later just the fatty parts of alfalfa were used with the same result.

This substance contained in the fat of alfalfa and sweet clover was called Vitamin K, and the knowledge gained about it was then applied to human beings. Blood tests were devised which would show if a person wasn't getting enough Vitamin K in his food. It was known that patients with jaundice were pronounced bleeders. The problem of haemorrhage after operation in these patients had always been a serious one to medical men the world over. It looks as if this danger can now be minimized by feeding such patients before operations with Vitamin K, or foods high in Vitamin K content.

It has been shown that the vitamin is soluble in fats, which explains why it was not present in the spoiled clover. It has not been isolated yet in its pure chemical form, but experiments show that it is present in large amounts in sweet clover, alfalfa, hog-liver oil, cabbage, spinach and tomatoes. It is not found, however, in cod-liver oil, wheat germ, orange juice, or any of those substances which are well-known for other vitamins content.

You see, Vitamin K isn't as important in our daily lives as those other vitamins we discussed. There may be many more of them, too, and their discovery in the future may clear up some of those puzzling diseases for which we now have no definite cure.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Are animals smarter than human beings?

In some ways they are. They have a sixth sense as regards diet.

They know a balanced diet and what foods cause illness. Human beings do not have this kind of sense.

Thousands of persons eat foods they should not eat.

Some of them are allergic to certain foods.

Children often show concern over foods disagreeable to them.

Many parents consider this stubbornness.

Allergists know it is sometimes due to a child's wiser instinct.

Animals sense what is good as food and what harmful.

Adult humans could take a diet lesson from the lower animals.

Report Nation Moving Out Of Recent Slump

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. — The nation has progressed well over a third of the way on the comeback trail from last May's depression "low," the Federal Reserve board reported happily today.

The board's index of industrial production has passed 100. Formerly regarded as the normal level, as based on the industrial activity in 1922-1923. However, allowances for population growth, industrial capacity and other factors have caused board economists now to place "normal" at 140.

The 100-plus rating represents a rise of 25 points from last May's low, and showed American factories have reached the level of October, 1937, at which time the effects of the latest recession had scarcely yet been noticed.

Saves You Much Money, and It's So Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable, for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar in 1 cup water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ cups of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of actually truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

And you'll say it's really amazing, for quick action. You can feel it take hold instantly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. No cough remedy, at any price, could be more effective.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable quinine, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The diplomatic situation in the Far East now said to be hurtling toward a climax detrimental to American and British interests, side-tracked for the moment by Britain's worries over Europe.

Growing manifestations of the ascendancy of the Japanese military clique, as opposed to more moderate Nipponese civil groups, is viewed with the utmost concern in London.

See Triple Alliance
Emperor Hirohito, according to information in unusually well-informed diplomatic circles, has privately told certain foreign diplomats that conversion of the German-Italian-Japanese anti-comintern pact into an open triple fascist military alliance is now almost inevitable.

The emperor, these diplomatic circles said, assured the foreign emissaries that such a step would be personally distasteful to him and the conservative old guard, since the alliance would increase prestige of the militarists.

It also would undoubtedly bring about a speedy and unfavorable reaction from the other powers with interests in the far east, perhaps to a point where active resistance might result.

time when Japan's hands are full with the Chinese war, and Russo-Japanese relations are tense. For this reason he reportedly urged upon the diplomats their utmost efforts to improve Japan's relations with the United States and Great Britain, to offset the militarists' advances, and Hirohito personally assured the diplomats that he was working steadily towards this end.

Against the emperor's reassurances, however, there are increasing suggestions that foreign Minister Hachiro Arita in his recent talks with the American and British ambassadors, Joseph C. Grew and Sir Robert Craigie, adopted an unexpectedly hostile attitude.

One unconfirmable version said Arita insisted the occidental powers must agree on a revision of the nine power pact, which provides for the "open door" in China, within three months, or face the possibility of a Japanese campaign of reprisal against their interests in the orient.

Arita, this report said, voiced a veiled hint that reprisals might even be directed against Hong Kong and other bulwarks of western interest.

Ellwood High Plays Tonight

Will Meet Bessemer At Lincoln Court—Lineup Of Team Not Determined

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—Although high school basketball makes its debut tonight at Lincoln court, Coach Jerry Newton is undecided as to the five players that will represent Ellwood City when the starting whistle is sounded.

The reason the selection is so problematical is because he has five players of apparently equal worth and ability and he is hoping to win in the pre-season games, he may find a winning combination that will match the first teams of the season rivals.

The players realize that they must be alert every minute, it appears at the present time that Ellwood will have one of the strongest teams in the district this year, at least during the first half before the mid-year graduation takes its toll of varsity players.

Bessemer provides the opposition tonight and if they take basketball as seriously as they do football, the Ellwood charges will have a tough crack in their first assignment. Last year, it is recalled, Bessemer lost to Ellwood by a very narrow margin, and inasmuch as they have a veteran team back to represent them on the hardwood floor, they're not being "sold short."

The Ellwood sophomores will play the Bessemer reserves at 7:15 p. m., and an hour later, the main game begins with Washington and Richmond of the officials.

Season tickets are on sale at $2 for reserved seats and $1 for students. General admission prices are 25 cents for reserved seats and 15 cents for students. There are ten home games.

If new uniforms have any part to play, Ellwood City will certainly be a winner. Two sets of complete uniforms have arrived and are ready to make the initial bow in a formal manner. One set is blue with white trim and the other is white with blue trim and the trunks and jerseys can be alternated really making four combinations. They are of jockey satin and an elastic weave. Gorgeous new sweat jackets of blue and white satin with white raglan sleeves complete the outfits which are unquestionably beautiful.

The squad from which the first five will be named a few minutes before the game begins is comprised of Canfield, Snare, Bell, Murphy and Schuler; guards: Jones, Robuck, Marshall, Gelbach, Rubino and Ottaviani, forwards; and DeBortoli, Cunningham and Miller, centers.

Saturday night the locals will journey to Norwin for another pre-season contest.

Ministers Discuss Leadership Course

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—Plans for the presentation of a leadership course shortly after the beginning of the new year were discussed by members of the Ministerial Association during their regular December meeting on Monday morning in the First Presbyterian church study.

"Personal Religious Liberty" will be the theme of the course and every effort will be made to make it of vital interest to every Sunday school worker.

Rev. W. E. Minter conducted the opening worship period and the rest of the time was given over to the transaction of routine matters.

"Another regular meeting will be held on the second Monday of January."

"Bud" Clark Will Realize Dream To Become Boy Scout

Bedridden Lad Passes Tenderfoot Exams And Will Be Troop Member

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—A cherished dream has come true for "Bud" Clark, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clark, of Beaver avenue. And the story of a dream that will bring unlimited joy and happiness to "Bud" is one that will bring equal joy to his many friends and a far richer, greater reward to the boys and their leader that have been the good fairies behind the dream's realization.

A little more than three years ago "Bud" was a strong, sturdy youngster enjoying the grand carefree life that is so right and natural for children. Then one sad morning when he awoke, he had a strange feeling, he had difficulty dressing himself, and still more difficulties in getting downstairs for "Bud's" right side was paralyzed.

Long days and longer nights of doctors, nurses, hospitalization and clinics followed and doctors finally told the worried parents that it was a form of the dreaded malady, "Sleeping Sickness." Through the years his condition has grown worse until today he is bedridden, unable to use his lower limbs or right side of his body.

Yet through it all, save those heart rending days when his friends and playmates trotted off to school, he has been a model of cheerfulness and patience, enjoying games directed by his parents and family, looking at pictures, hearing stories read and watching the activities of the street in front of his bedside window.

His uncle Jim, a scoutmaster, was "Bud's" ideal and noticing his nephew longingly watching his old brother depart on scouting trips, Uncle Jim always promised "Bud" that when he was ten years old, he too, could be a boy scout. But alas, a short time before "Bud" was ten he was stricken and a year later his beloved "Uncle Jim" was the victim of appendicitis.

Boys of Troop 13 of the First Christian church, a part of the Lawrence County council, and one of the newest troops in the city, heard of "Bud's" desire to be a scout and they decided he should be one. For the past several months a patrol a week has visited him and held their patrol meetings in his room.

The other day under the supervision of Scoutmaster Charles Follette he passed the tenderfoot requirements and he is so happy and jubilant that he talks of nothing else. A formal investiture service with candles and everything will take place in the sick room. The ceremony will be on Friday evening, December 23, and will include a Christmas party. Most of the affair will be a complete surprise to the pleased, cheery lad.

As a Christmas gift to Bud, the other scouts have raised sufficient funds to buy him a complete uniform.

In reply to our inquiry of what he wanted for Christmas, with his sparkling, clear brown eyes shining, and a big smile, he answered "snow would be nice." His unforced cheerfulness brought a tear to the eye, a prayer of forgiveness for petty complaints to the lips and an unsurpassed joy to the heart at this display of scouting at its best.

ELLWOOD CROWDS

Welcome Santa

Formal Entrance To City Is Made In Monday Night Tour Of Streets

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—That delightful fellow that changes December from a hum-drum colorless winter month to days of pleasant expectancy, makes little boys and girls breathless with excitement and models of perfection in behavior; that brings a twinkle to granddads' eyes, a happy smile to his lips as he is ever reminiscent of the "good old-fashioned Christmas when he was a boy" that brings a question to mothers and dads as to where the necessary coin is coming from; that little family group openly conspiring together; that is a bonanza to the shopkeeper and manufacturer in the dull winter season; that is a universal purveyor of good cheer; Santa Claus, made a pre-Christmas visit to Ellwood City last evening.

He was welcomed by hundreds of bright-eyed children, their parents and grandparents, who lined the streets for blocks to get a glimpse of the jolly fellow that makes December 25, the merriest and happiest day of all the year.

Entroned on a brightly decorated float, he waved a greeting to the boys and girls who love him so well and Boy Scouts of the B. V. M. troop picked up letters from the children.

Five musical organizations, all dressed in their snazziest, striking suits, despite the cutting wind, hailed the approach of Santa Claus. They were the Veterans of Foreign Wars Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, Zellenophle high school band, Wampum high school band, Legion Drum and Bugle corps and the Lincoln high school band. The parade began on time and moved slowly through the principal streets, countermarching to the Lincoln school where they started and disbanded.

Ellwood City has its most elaborate street decorations this year.

And they provided a proper setting for the appearance of Santa Claus. In addition to the vari-colored street lights there are tiny decorated pine trees on either side of the white way poles and illuminated stars center the mid-street pine arrangements.

Joining the spirit of the thing the merchants and storekeeper have outdone themselves in exterior lighting and decorating effects. A large illuminated star on the tower of the Lincoln high school especially stands out and everyone agrees (and that is unusual) that the decorations are completely lovely.

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—When members of the W. W. Guild of the Providence Baptist church were pleasantly received for their regular meeting last evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Nye and Mrs. Jane Cox, at North Sewickley, there were twenty-two members and two guests, Nancy Burley and Bette Steffler, in attendance.

Miss Elizabeth Cramer was the leader and Miss Luella Jones presented a chapter from the mission book.

Plans were made to hold the annual Christmas party and gift exchange next Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. Roulledge, of North Sewickley. At that time, the evening will be devoted to white cross work.

The remaining hours were spent socially and after the hostesses served palatable refreshments, members departed to meet again in regular session on Monday evening, January 9, at the home of Mrs. Keith Hazen, of Knox.

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—Miss Virginia Goehring was a special guest of the Sub Deb club, whose members were welcomed last evening for their bi-weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Cecil Barlow, Franklin avenue.

Bridge at two tables held the attention of the groups with Miss Eleanor Kimes being the top score winner.

"Beautiful beyond description" was the report given of the table arrangements with the hostess serving most appetizing refreshments.

In two weeks members will be guests of Miss Esther Brenneman at her home in Fifth street.

Foreman's Club Dinner Meeting

Moving Picture Of Abrasive Industry Pleases More Than 300 Members, Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—Highly interesting and instructive for members of the Foreman's club of the National Tube company and their guests, members of the Rotary, Kiwanis and manufacturer's division of the Chamber of Commerce, and friends, gathered last evening in the Trinity Lutheran church for the first dinner meeting of the year, was the showing of the Carborundum Abrasive company's great movie on "Romance In Industry."

Starting with the story of the beginning of the abrasive manufacture in a little shop in a Monongahela City in 1891 with Edward G. Acheson as the creator, the film vividly showed the progress of the product from its crude beginning through its first use in the polishing of gems to the place it has in every industry today.

The metal industry it ranges from the grinding of vitrola needles to locomotive parts, from fountain pens to plows and harvesters; in the stone industry it has revolutionized the working of marble, granite and sandstone; it is indispensable in the finishing of fine leather and shoes; for the paper industry it is made into huge stones for the grinding of wood pulp; it surfaces and bevels glass; it shapes pearl buttons and precious stones; Chinese use it for polishing jade; and the East Indians use the wheels for hulling rice, were examples of its wide and varied uses, from the day the backyard grindstone representing the industry to the present day when automatic machines grind to one-tenth thousandth of an inch.

F. B. Bowman, of the company, commented on the film during its showing and answered various questions.

More than three hundred interested men attended the affair and were voluble in their praise to the program department of the club for the opportunity of seeing the educational film.

The dinner, consisting of braised steak as the main course, and pumpkin pie with whipped cream as the dessert, was just perfect and more than pleased the diners and the ladies of the church who prepared and served the bountiful meal were given a round of spontaneous applause by the men.

Meetings of the Foreman's club have come to be known as outstanding affairs and this one was no exception.

A needy family will be aided for Christmas and Mrs. James Baxter asked members to bring their discarded toys and snow suit to the church that they might be given to worthy families. Mrs. Mason distributed envelopes for contributions to China relief.

As the concluding feature a sumptuous lunch was served by the hostess and her aides, Mrs. Walter Simpson, Mrs. Vesta Ewing, Mrs. Anita Friskholm, Mrs. Jerry Huffman, Mrs. Edith Moore and Mrs. Pauline Sanders.

Clark Gable And Norma Shearer Repeat Love Scenes

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1938.)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13.—Clark Gable looks like a boy who's been rifling the strawberry jam pot after he completes an ardent love scene with Norma Shearer in "Idiot's Delight" at M-G-M. His face covered with lipstick, his girl friend, Carole Lombard should have seen it. Not once or twice, but four times Clark and Norma go through their love-making before it meets approval of Director Clarence Brown, who's screenland's No. 1 expert on super colossal billing and cooing Brown ought to know, in the past he directed such torrid love scenes as those between Greta Garbo and the late John Gilbert in "Flesh and the Devil."

Each time as Clark and Norma finish their embraces Gable has to undergo the cleaning ministrations of his make-up man, Stanley Campbell.

Once Brown spoils a scene himself. The love-making takes place while the town is being bombed and Gable and Miss Shearer are supposed to break away when a particularly loud explosion occurs. Brown gives the cue for that.

Gable and Miss Shearer go on hugging and kissing for quite a time when Clark suddenly looks up and says:

"Hey, Clarence, when is that bomb supposed to go off?"

Brown looks chagrined and says: "I forgot, I'm sorry."

Why should anyone feel constrained to apologize for making a man kiss Norma Shearer a few moments longer than necessary?

M-G-M finally has figured it out so gentle audiences won't have to blanch at the awful carnage as Nelson Eddy, in his first screen fight, batters Victor McLaglen to veritable pulp in "Song of the West."

The battle will be staged in a cavern only faintly lighted by the moon shining on a desert valley outside. It's to this cavern that Eddy, defender of the plains folk, will lure the unsuspecting McLaglen, a villainous railroad foreman, for the aforementioned purpose of reducing him to the aforementioned pulp. All you'll see is shadowy figures with probably a few closeups of a fist banging itself into McLaglen's grizzled pan. Of course there'll be a few grunts and groans to lend lustre to the encounter.

They've been rehearsing the fight now for two days behind closed doors. Director Jack Conway reportedly has sprained his larynx shouting directions. It's to be fervently hoped the fight don't sprain the plot.

AROUND CITY HALL

The operating expense of the city in 1939 will be $26,835.31 more than in 1938. However, the tax levy of 11 1/2 mills will remain the same, it was pointed out by Finance Director James L. Fink. He explained the increases as follows:

making the triennial assessment at a cost of $1,800.

Six hundred and 10 dollars was added to the police appropriation for the services of a parking meter caretaker. This money came from another fund last year. However, the city will realize considerable money from the parking meters. In fact, what was realized during 1938 went far to help the city and the anticipated receipts in 1939 has gone far to keep the levy down.

Thirteen thousand five hundred dollars was added for federal-city projects next year. During 1938 only $11,500 was set up. This will pay for the city's share of the present city-WPA operations.

An increase of $500 was given to the parks and $200 to the playgrounds. The golf department was increased $650 and an appropriation of $3,000 was set up to pay off the balance of a $25,000 temporary loan made recently.

Owing to a state law it was necessary to add $3,600 to the sum for paying for workmen's compensation and $700 was appropriated for trucks and equipment and for a payments on traffic lights, Fink explained.

Nemeth Stops Rubin In Second Round Of Milk Fund Show Here

Almost 1,200 People Witness
Exciting Boxing Bout
Monday Night

FRANKIE MORAN
BEATS SEABORN

Almost 1,200 spectators witnessed one of the most exciting fistful roundups staged here in several years, Monday evening, in The Arena, when the New Castle Exchange club held its milk fund benefit show. The 16 amateur battlers put out everything they had, resulting in a great show.

The main go event brought together a pair of mastodon heavyweights, New Castle's Mickie Rubin and Dave Nemeth, Youngstown. At the bell, the gladiators met in the center of the ring and slugged like a pair of Canadian wood-choppers. Nemeth shot a short right which found Rubin's chin. The local fighter tumbled to the floor, took the nine count and came after his foe like an angered bull. Nemeth sent a long right which landed on Mickie's jaw. The bell saved the starchy eyed local battler.

Rubin came out of his corner with vengeance in his eyes as he tore into Nemeth, scoring with stinging rights to the mid-section. In the second, Nemeth commenced to weaken as Rubin continued his onslaught. Nemeth jarred Rubin with a hefty right cross. Rubin continued boring in and let loose a wicked right to Nemeth's stomach. It looked like the Ohioan was going down but he managed to stand up and tossed a right which struck Rubin's jaw. Mickie tumbled like a crumbling brick building as Referee Leyschok counted "ten." Rubin was carried to his corner and was out for several minutes.

One of the most thrilling amateur bouts staged here in years was the seventh scrap of the evening between Frankie Moran and Leo Seaborn, a colored lad from McKeesport. Leo looked like a second edition of Henry Armstrong as he danced out of his corner shooting rights and lefts in a manner that would rival the precision of a machine gun. The local fighter was unable to get in any good licks in the opener which went to the visiting amateur. But, in the second, Moran found his bearings and rocked Seaborn with a short right. In a clinch, Moran's left eye was cut. Referee Leyschok stopped the bout temporarily, examined the gap and permitted the fighters to continue. During the remainder of the round, Moran sent the McKeesport battler down three times for counts of nine, but couldn't store him away for keeps.

Moran Winner
The third canto was a repetition of the second, with Moran flooring Seaborn four more times. Seaborn's courage won the plaudits of the large crowd. Moran received the decision. They found in the 126 pound class.

The battle of the night was staged between Nickie Retardo, Ellwood City, and Tony Roma, McKeesport, a pair of 132 pounders. As the opening bell sounded, Roma dashed out of his corner like a 5-15 passenger train, pumping a flock of lefts and rights into the bewildered Retardo. The Ellwood City scraper countered with a barrage of lefts and rights as the gallery went wild. Even after the bell sounded, the athletes continued their battle until the referee separated them.

Retardo Wins
In the second, the combatants tore into each other and slugged like a couple of lions. Both battlers continued where they left off in the final round shooting out punches from all directions as the crowd roared. Retardo was awarded the decision.

Billy Miller, of Alliance, emerged victorious over "Blackie" Ferrar, this city, in the fifth clash of the night. The 130 pound "Shmon-pures" boxed it out in the opener, both scoring with clean-cut hooks and jabs. The fireworks started in the second when Ferrar floored Miller with a well-timed right. The Ohioan came up as nine and dashed after Ferrar. A solid right sent Ferrar down for the count of nine. Miller rushed in as the local battler arose and shot across another pretty right which felled Ferrar again as the bell sounded.

Shortly after the start of the last round, Miller belted Ferrar with a left and a right and then a looping right which floored Ferrar for the third time. Ferrar dropped to the resin again as a result of an uppercut as the bell sounded. Miller won the nod.

Butler's Jack Virgelli scored a clean-cut triumph over Jack Rainey, McKeesport, in the 160 pound class, in the fourth clash. Virgelli scored repeatedly with short lefts to the stomach in the first. A left floored Rainey in the second. Virgelli started to hit his foe at will. The battle was halted, giving the Butler boy a second round technical knockout.

Brooks Wins Easily
Halbert Brooks, this city, wasted no time with Joe Devine, Alliance, in the third setto. Brooks stepped right out at the bell and poured in a series of lefts and rights, flooring Devine. The local colored lad dropped the Alliance boy three more times before Devine stayed down for keeps. They fought in the 150 pound class.

The second fight, between Benny Bartel, Ellwood City's rugged 170 pounder, and Jack Karpijack, of Youngstown, was a humdinger. In the opener, Bartel scored with several devastating left hooks. Bartel followed through in the second, sending over a right which dropped Karpijack for a nine count. The Youngstowner went down again as the Ellwoodian scored with another right. Karpijack withstood the attack as the crowd yelled frantically. In the third, Bartel hit his foe with everything but the ring post but was unable to land the "sleep producer". Bartel was the winner.

A couple of 115 pound scrapers, "Babe" Retardo, Ellwood City, and Eddie Medved, Youngstown, opened the show with a fast encounter. Although his opponent was taller and had a height advantage, Retardo was the aggressor throughout. He won his way into the hearts of the gathering with his courage. He kept Medved on the defense most of the time.

The show was one of the most exciting staged here in many years. Every bout was replete with action. Tom McMahon, this city, and Sam Leyschok, Mercer, split the refereeing duties. Jay Rudolph and Joe Frank handled the judging situation while Billy Fazzone and Carl Chella were the timers. Charles "Bugs" Walther was the announcer. The Jefferson A. C., through Ed Fritz and Thomas Leach, supervised the show.

Art Snow, chairman in charge of the Exchange club committee, today stated that the affair was a success. The fund will be used to purchase milk for indigent children of the city and county. Through the columns of The News, the organization thanks everyone who aided in making the benefit event such a success.

Detroit Gets Hutchinson For Players-Cash

Give White, Piet, Archie, Selway And Reported Bundle Of $30,000

YANKEES ALSO WANTED PITCHER

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—From all four corners of the baseball world officials, club owners, managers and players converged on New York today for the three-day run of the annual mid-winter major league meetings, with rumors of trades filling the air.

Detroit started things moving by announcing the acquisition of Fred Hutchinson, right-handed pitching star of the Pacific Coast league. To obtain the 19-year-old sensation from Seattle, Detroit relinquished cash reported to approximate $30,000 and four players—second baseman Tony Piet, outfielder Jo-Jo White, both veterans; and two youngsters, first baseman George Archie, and a right-handed twirler, Edgar Selway.

Coast Sensation
The Tigers outbid the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh for Hutchinson who, in his first year in organized baseball after stepping from the Seattle high school diamond, won 25 games and lost seven.

This transaction re-opened the drive for players following the warm-up deals completed at the recently adjourned minor league meetings at New Orleans.

The Tigers' proposed deal with the Cleveland Indians seemed definitely off, but the former reportedly were dickering elsewhere in an attempt to rebuild for a battle with the Yankees for American league supremacy. Other reports were prevalent, too, but nothing advanced beyond conjecture.

Meanwhile, Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants announced that he was inclined to stand pat on the refurbishing of his team accomplished at New Orleans. He went so far as to predict that the Giants, Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals would make up the National league's first division next summer—and he picked them in that order.

Local sport notes . . . Nick Uram, former New Castle high basketball and football player, now coach of Adams township, believes Bessemer will cop the Section 20 race. "There's a fine crop of football and basketball stuff at Bessemer," Uram said following the Bessemer-Adams floor tussle. Tuesday night, December 20, a basketball clinic will be held in the Mahoning school gymnasium under the supervision of the W. P. A. recreation-education division. Peter Cardella, who will be in charge, has also planned for a demonstration . . .

Lawrence County's Class B teams will play more than 125 games during the next couple of months. Here's hoping that the New Castle high "Red Hurricane" 1938-39 basketball edition starts off with a victory. Lawrence county has an abundance of first class officials. Carl Ginoch, "Bud" Hanlon, Sam Richards, Chet Waddington, Tip and Tex Richards, Johnny Uram, "Tim" Hutchinson and Mottinger represent an unusually talented group of basketball officials. There are quite a few others throughout the city and county . . .

A pinch of this and that . . . During this year, some 15,000 harness horses were trained for various races in which only 6,000 "gee-gees" participated. Oliver Hardy, the rotund fun creating comedian, has a string of six horses. Seabiscuit has lost the $100,000 Santa Anita derby by a nose twice. Davey O'Brien, the famous T. C. U. slinger, is a geologist and plans continuing along that line after getting his sheepskin. Carmen Barth's has met two middle-weight crown holders and yet his earnings for this year average about $10 per week . . .

A few sport facts! . . . A recent roundup among 100 colleges showed that an average grid coach makes about $6,107 a season compared to $5,158 for a "prof" . . . Some 200,000 names of registered horses are on file in the Jockey club headquarters. None of the "handles" can be used for 15 years from the date of registration. Guillermo, the "Babe" Ruth of Jai Alai, gets $15,000 a semester from Mike Jacobs . . .

Sport shorts . . . Henry "Perpetual puncher" Armstrong is one of the most religious athletes in sports land. Before entering the ring in defense of one of his titles, the "windmill" gets in a corner, away from everyone, and reads the Bible. Even though he was felled by an attack

Market Perks Up As Leaders Climb And Trading Is Accelerated

BY LESLIE GOULD

International News Service

Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The stock market perked up a bit today, as leaders climbed a point or more in somewhat accelerated trading.

General tendencies were upward from the opening, gains being increased as the morning progressed. Sales in the first hour amounted to 340,000 shares, but activity slowed in later transactions.

Aviations, steels, motors, building shares and rubbers were prominent on the forenoon advance. Farm implement issues were among the few to lag.

Douglas Aircraft was a feature on a run up of almost 2 points to a new top for the year of 75. Chrysler in motors and Johns-Manville in the building section gained about a point.

Others to register advances of a point or more were General Motors, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Union Pacific, Lima Locomotive, Sears Roebuck, Philip Morris, and U. S. Rubber.

Phelps-Dodge gain was limited to a fraction, despite news of a 3,000,000-pound copper cable order for the Bonneville Dam project.

International Harvester, Oliver and Deere, all in the farm implement group, incurred fractional declines.

SUPREME COURT MAKES DECISION

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13—Any effort on the part of state officials to make retroactive the supreme court's decision which held unconstitutional the practice of giving ex-servicemen in Pennsylvania a 15 per cent advantage in civil service tests will meet the determined resistance of VFW and American Legion organizations.

County Controller Robert G. Woodside, a past national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, declared: "I have always been in favor of preference for men who served their country in time of war for civil service positions, and we who have the interest of the veterans at heart certainly will resist any efforts to take this well deserved preference away from them."

Other VFW and American Legion officials expressed themselves as determined to resist any effort to upset the civil service lists and opposed to any effort to make the court's ruling retroactive.

Both civil service and veterans service groups officials admitted, however, that they were frankly puzzled by the court's ruling. Although the 15 per cent advantage was ruled out, the decision held valid the veterans' "preference feature" which would still give the ex-servicemen the "edge" in civil service appointments.

MORE MONEY IS IN CIRCULATION

Two Billion More Out Now
Than Since 1929 Reserve
Board Announces

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—Money in circulation has increased by approximately $2,000,000,000 since 1929 the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

The board found that despite the rigid supervision over banks that is exercised by the government and the fact that Uncle Sam insures deposits of $5,000 or less. Many persons prefer to keep their cash in mattresses, cooking-pots, cigar boxes or buried in the back yard.

Circulation of both large and small bills as well as coins has increased since 1929, the board reported.

Sales taxes in many states, plus the popularity of slot-machines and pin-ball games keep the movement of coins at a higher volume than heretofore.

The board presumed that the memory of the banking troubles in the early thirties is causing quite a number of persons to keep their paper money in the well known sock, although the fact that banks pay less interest now than formerly, has a lot to do with it.

Relief payments made to a large number of persons without bank accounts also increased the amount of money outstanding, according to the board.

On November 30, money in circulation was $6,786,000,000, or $51.96 per capita.

Change Is Made On Rental Books

Library Announces That New Fees Now In Force Are Not Known

The local public library maintains a small rental collection of books in order to give those who are willing to pay a small fee an opportunity to get books more quickly. The fee for these books was rethan would otherwise be possible. This collection contains only new fiction.

cently changed, and, according to Miss Alice Sterling, the change is now generally known. The charge is now three cents a day for the first ten days, and five cents a day thereafter.

According to Miss Sterling, the reason for the increase in the rate after 10 days is that most of these books are reserved by another borrower and it is desirable to circulate the books as rapidly as possible.

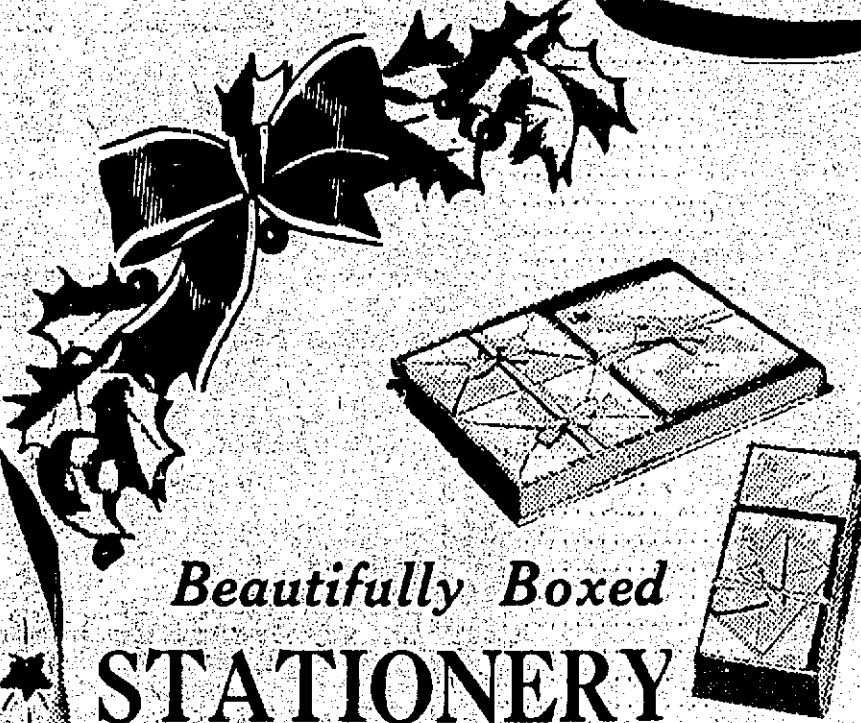

All of the books in the rental collection are duplicated in the free collection.

December Term Of Court Ends In Two Hours

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 13—The shortest December term of court in Butler county's history ended in one hour and fifty minutes Monday. The grand jury indicated 22 persons last week and 17 of the cases were settled by pleas in open court. Five defendants who appeared before juries had their cases ended by pleas or dismissals.

District Attorney Lee C. McCandless was complimented by Judge John H. Wilson. The jurors who reported for duty received one day's pay and the usual mileage rate.

Why this "investigation of monopolies?" Well, the insiders said: "People blame us for this last depression. Let's start busting and fool people into thinking 'Big Business' caused it."
